

ORDINANCES FINALLY PASSED BY COUNCIL

Bids to be Asked Soon on Fallowfield Avenue Paving

MAY IMPROVE SEWERS

Receives Permission From State Health Department to Make Extensions

The ordinance for the grading and paving of Fallowfield avenue from Ninth street to its intersection with Lincoln avenue passed second and third reading Tuesday night at the regular meeting of council. Action was taken to secure bids for the work of paving by April 1, when another meeting will be held.

Another ordinance was passed by council that presented by the West Side Electric Street Railway company for rights of way over a short stretch of Fallowfield avenue south and through a corner of the borough close to Lincoln avenue extension. This ordinance like the paving ordinance passed both second and final reading.

Communication was received from the State Department of Health that the borough could now go ahead and make whatever sewer extensions regarded necessary. Some time ago the borough submitted plans for a sewage disposal plant. This was considered by the State department as essential before permission would be given for extensions to be made.

A contract for furnishing 500 feet of fire hose was awarded to the Quaker City Hose Co., of Philadelphia, at the price of $2 1-2 cents a foot. This hose will be used as an experiment. Heretofore the fire hose purchased by the borough has been dearer, costing at the average rate of $1 a foot. Last fall a contract was let for 500 feet to a different hose concern at the rate of $1 a foot.

Council ordered a number of bills paid and received the reports of the burgess, treasurer and tax collector.

Burgess George W. Risbeck's report showed that there were only 34 arrests made during February, with the total fines assessed amounting to $84.45. Of this sum $76.45 was paid the balance being served out in time.

Treasurer T. R. Eagye made a report that is summarized as follows: Balance from last report $2,313.32 Receipts 1,629.78

Total $3,943.10

Disbursements 2,761.32

Balance in treasurer $1,181.78

Tax Collector J. W. Mathias reported that he had turned over to the treasurer for 1912 taxes $172.59, for 1909 taxes $25.75, for 1910, $32.90 and for 1911, $39.22. Tax Collector Mathias was exonerated from taxes amounting to $113.75, the balance of the uncollected duplicate. Most of these were where there were double assessments.

Buys Coal in Greene

Local Man Purchases Tract in Morris Township From John T. Clutter

John T. Clutter of Morris township, Greene county, has sold to George W. Dawson of Charleroi an undivided interest amounting to 297 acres of coal including in what is commonly known as the Morris township block of coal purchased nearly ten years ago by Waynesburg buyers, receiving in the neighborhood of $125 an acre.

The coal in question about 11,000 acres, was purchased by J. B. F. Rinehart, A. B. Reese, M. E. Carroll, Geo. F. Auld and John T. Clutter, at $20 to $25 an acre. Portions of the coal are situated in East Finley and Morris townships, Washington county, and a small part is situated in Richhill township, Greene county. The larger part is in Morris township, Greene county. Since the first purchase was made several other persons have purchased interests in the coal. Mr. Clutter continues to hold about 300 acres of the block.

IGNORES DEMANDS OF HOUSE

Gov. Tener Defies Power of Assembly Committee

BILLS ARE PRESENTED

Harrisburg, Mar. 12—Governor Tener has split with the legislative committee that is trying to discredit the administration by investigating the officials who hold two or more jobs at the expense of the state. He has refused to furnish information from the various executive departments, and has instructed officials and employees to ignore a summons to appear before the committee and testify. It is stated that the governor will present a message to the legislature today defining his position on the matter. It is also stated that the legislative committee will employ counsel and seek to compel the executive to furnish the information.

The action is largely a Democratic move which seeks to discredit the administration. The practice of holding dual positions has been followed for years and there are no new departures in this administration.

Although the club license bill is deemed to an early death in the house—if not there, then in the senate—the sub-committee of the law

"Stop vice" is the slogan to be heard at Monessen. Not only the man who is accused of the murder of Policeman Entinger is to be pushed to the law's limit, but also others who were in any way connected with the alleged vice conditions that have been existing in like and lockup committee of council the notorious Wireton district. SAMUEL M'KEAN, PROMINENT MAN DIES AT HOME IN BELLE VERNON

Aged Resident Succumbs After Long Illness—Belonged to Family That Helped in Founding Charleroi

Samuel M. McKean, aged 80 years, one of the oldest residents of this section died at his home at Fern Cliff, Belle Vernon on Tuesday evening at 5:30 o'clock, after an extended illness resulting from old age. He came to this section with his brother, Robert McKean, from Scotland in early life, and settled near the present location of Allegheny, where he became a gardener.

Robert McKean, the brother, settled on the present site of Charleroi, and it was he who owned the land on which Charleroi was built. His son, James S. McKean, was the founder of the town.

After living on the west side of the Monongahela river some years, Samuel McKean removed to Belle Vernon to become a florist and gardener at Gibbstown. He spent the rest of his life near there.

Mr. McKean was a member of the Belle Vernon Lodge of Odd Fellows. His wife died about four years ago at Belle Vernon. Surviving are ten sons and daughters. They are: Mrs. C. B. Copeland and Mrs. W. H. Calvert of Charleroi; Mrs. J. C. Williams, of California; Mrs. R. K. Johnston, Monessen; Mrs. Chris. Cribbs of Greensburg; Mrs. J. R. Board and Charles, Robert, William and Samuel of Belle Vernon.

Arrangements have been made to hold the funeral on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the late home. Interment will be in the Gibbstown cemetery.

MEAT SUPPLY MAN DIES AT HOSPITAL

Robert Springer, aged 51, a well-known meat supply man of Belle Vernon died at the McKeesport hospital on Monday night at 4 o'clock following an operation. He leaves his widow and four children. Springer was known throughout the Monongahela valley.

MONESSEN CONTRIBUTES A MANSLAUGHTER CASE

Want Fifth Street Paved

Petition to be Circulated Asking for Improvement Above Meadow

As the result of activity of certain residents of Fifth street above Meadow avenue and of certain users of the street, a petition will be circulated soon for the grading and paving of the street. Already council has been broached on the subject. Instructions from that body were to be prepared and submit a petition.

Fifth street above Meadow avenue is a hard street for vehicles to pass over. Sometimes in bad weather it seems more of a street to be navigated or forded than driven through. Such is the claim of people most anxious to have it improved.

It is probable that a petition will be circulated at once for the street in order that it may be presented at the next session of council to be held on April 1. Council will be implored to do quite a bit of paving this year.

LIBRARY FUND IN PROSPECT

Council Favors Appropriating Dog Tax for Purpose

COMMITTEE APPOINTED

The movement towards the establishment of a free library in Charleroi received an impetus Tuesday night when council accepted the report of a committee favoring the using of dog tax collected in the borough for the up-keep of a library. A committee consisting of Councilman Oscar C. Linn and John K. Riekey was appointed to work conjunctively with others in the interests of a library. Two members of the school board, W. D. Pollock and H. J. Booth are a committee from that body and three others are to be chosen to compose directors. It considered advisable the books contained in the Fifth street school library will be transferred to the new library, which is an outgrowth of that established in the Young People's reading room in the Odd Fellows building at the corner of Washington avenue and Fifth street.

E. S. Metz, of Monessen Dies From Assault of Foreigner

HIT WITH IRON BAR

Was at Work as Mill Foreman When Blow Was Struck From Rear

The second death within a week that will result in a trial for murder from Monessen occurred this morning about 2 o'clock, when former councilman Edward S. Metz, aged about 45 of Monessen died at the Monessen-Charleroi hospital. On February 13 Metz was attacked by a foreigner while he was at work at his duties of foreman in the Pittsburg Steel mill. The foreigner is said to have struck him with an iron bar, fracturing his skull. Charged with the crime an Italian by the name of Amela LaBerrie, was arrested a few days afterward at Gannertown, Blair county, by State Constable Fred Ames. LaBerrie is now in jail at Greensburg. According to the story of the assault Metz was engaged in showing a foreigner how to do a certain duty, when his assailant crept up behind him, striking him a heavy iron bar. An operation was performed shortly after Metz was taken to the hospital, and another was performed Tuesday. LaBerrie will formally be charged with manslaughter by the Westmoreland authorities. He is said to have asked concerning the condition of Metz when arrested and since to have betrayed some anxiety.

Metz was one of the best known men in Monessen. His widow and a married daughter survive. This morning a coroner's jury was drawn by Deputy Coroner Lawrence B. Frye of Charleroi and the body of Metz was viewed at the hospital. The case is a Washington county coroner's case for the reason that the death occurred in this county, and an inquest will probably be held tonight at 7 o'clock. Metz's skull shows a fracture much the shape of a "V" to the right and back of his head. The jury summoned in the case consists of D. R. Duvall, James Hill, Davis Woodward, Harry Williams, Floyd Chalfant and Harry Scott.

COMPELLING HONESTY.

What with the passage of a federal law compelling manufacturers to mark all packages containing food
with the quantity of the contents
the weight, measure or numerical count, and the introduction of a "pure shoe" bill in the state legislature, the people are gradually gaining in what is rightfully their own. These laws are to compel common honesty in trade, and to prevent deception.

In the matter of food a package intended to pass for a pound is a couple of ounces short. The price, however,
is based on pound rates and the product can usually be bought by the pound in bulk at less than the package containing less than a pound. The so-called quart can or bottle is short in measure and this art of deception is practiced all along the line. The new federal law recognizes the right of manufacturers to sell by the package or container, but they must state
the net weight or measure of the package or container, so that purchasers may know that they are paying for less than a pound, quart or fractional part thereof.

It is the same in the manufacture of shoes and should be with clothing. People should know whether they are buying all wool garments or those that are half cotton or shoddy
and if shoes stuffed with pasteboard or other materials not leather are made and sold the purchaser should know it. All departures from regular standards are deceptions and if common honesty in trade is conspicuous by its absence, the law should supply the deficiency.

NOT MILITANTS.

So many inquiries are constantly received by suffragists in Pennsylvania as to their views of the actions of the "militant suffragettes" of England that the Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage Association has expressed itself in this direction through a resolution adopted at the monthly meeting of the state committee at the state headquarters recently. This resolution may be accepted as the authoritative utterance of the Pennsylvania suffragists, for all of them are either allied with the Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage Association
or else are in thorough sympathy

with it. It is as follows:

"Whereas, we do not pass judgment
on the methods of other organizations;
we disclaim all connections with militant organizations and do not er-dorse or intend to use militant methods, but shall continue to employ educational methods as in the past."
The meaning of this is that Pennsylvania need have no fear of brickbats, acid or dynamite. The Pennsylvania suffragists propose to keep up their active campaign with the same regard for the rights of everyone as is characteristic of sane political movements in America.

and order committee has agreed to have what is known as Governor Ten-ner's bill amended so that the license fee shall be not less than $100 nor more than $500 a year, depending upon the size of the membership. It is expected that the bill will be reported favorably to the house today
from the full committee.

It is possible that barbers will be required to take out a state license
if a bill requiring this finally passes both houses. There is little opposition to such a bill, which is now before the house.

A "pure shoe" law, which requires all materials other than leather used in the manufacture of shoes to be stamped on the article is arousing much opposition. The bill does not prohibit the use of other material, but it requires that the use of such material should be stated, so that shoes made of pasteboard cannot be sold as pure leather shoes.

The resolution to amend the constitution to permit the state to issue bonds to the extent of $750,000
for state highway improvement
passed the Senate by a vote of 11 to 3.
This resolution now goes to the house, and if passed by that body, will be submitted to the people of the state for their approval at the polls.
The small opposition in the senate
taken as an indication that the house will approve it.

The bill calling for an election upon the question of holding a constitutional convention in the immediate future
has passed the house after a seven hour and debate. The bill was not a party measure, but was backed largely by the supporters of Mayor Magee of Pittsburgh, and passed by a vote of 122 to 72. It provides for the election of delegates at the same time

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"I was buying some ladies' gingham dresses in New York recently," said a Charleroi merchant and was shown some splendidly made garment- at the wholesale house, but the price struck me as being rather high,
and I so remarked. The salesman, however, dwelt upon the merits of the garment, calling attention to the material, the extra work and trimmings, and showing that nothing had been neglected in the making of the garment.

"These garments are exceptionally well made," said the salesman. "We required a certain standard, and each garment is carefully inspected, and thrown out if the slightest imperfection is discovered. Why, each one of these dresses cost us 65 cents to make."

"Sixty-five cents?" I echoed, in surprise.

"Yes," replied the salesman, "they cost us more to manufacture than any thing of the grade we ever put on the market before as we had more work put on them than we usually do in garments of that quality."

"Why, man alive!" I said, "that is dirt cheap. Sixty-five cents for making a woman's dress like that! I only just before I started to the city
my wife had a couple of gingham dresses made by a seamstress at home and there was not nearly so much work on them as on these, and the dressmaker charged her $2.50 each for making them. You must pay starvation wages for the making of these dresses."

"Well, I'll convince you that we don't do anything of the kind," he said, and with that he took me up into the factory, where whole roomful of girls and women were making dresses and other garments. I was shown at those prices that girls made as high as $16 and $18 a week. However, they weren't working as a local dressmaker does, but were rushing at a speed that a woman here would think impossible. They also do tear work, that is certain ones do a certain portion of the work and pass it along to others. In that way they become skilled and proficient. Each one does her work quicker and better than the ordinary local seamstress, and a garment, perfectly made, is finished up while you stand there looking on. It was a revelation to me."

"Talk about native shrewdness," remarked a Charleroi citizen a day or two ago. "I saw a recent transaction practiced by a small boy that place
him high in the ranks of financiering.
My own eight-year-old son and a neighboring lad the same age were at the railroad station the other day, where I was waiting for a train. My son asked for a penny to weigh himself, remarking that he thought he weighed more than his companion. I replied that both of them together
would not weigh as much as one husky lad ought to, and after some 'kidding'
I gave each of the boys a penny to weigh themselves on the slot machine
in the waiting room, and then I handed my son another penny to weigh both together.

The lads rushed to the machine and the other lad told my boy to weigh himself first. This he did and the result was carefully noted.

"Now we'll both get weighed together," said the lad, and both stepped on the scale and my son deposited the penny in the slot I had given him to pay for the joint weight. Then taking a stub of a pencil from his pocket the other boy deducted the weight of my son from their combined weight, and said:

"That is what I weigh. There's no use spending my penny, so I'll just keep it."

The question of holding a convention
is voted on at the election next fall.
The bill to provide a system of liquor licenses for dining cars was negatively recommended to the house by the law and order committee, together with the bills prohibiting sales of liquor in less than a gallon, forbidding a minor to misrepresent age
to get a drink and providing for reimbursement of men who lose liquor licenses by court action without any complaint being made against the conduct of place. The bill making it a misdemeanor to visit
a gambling house was affirmatively recommended.

For People in Poor Health.

Winter with its sudden changes is particularly trying for old people or those who suffer from a weakened, rundown condition. Chronic coughs, colds or bronchitis, but if such persons would only apply common sense methods in the treatment of their condition, much discomfort and suffering might be avoided.

The most essential thing to do is to build up strength, enrich the blood,
increase vital resistance and to accomplish this nothing equals Vinol, our cod liver and iron tonic without oil.

Mrs. H. Hartmann of Albany, N.
Y., says: "I was in a run-down condition for about five years until this spring, when I learned what a great tonic and strengthener Vinol is. It is certainly the best I have ever used
and it has done wonders for me."

Old people, delicate children, rundown, overworked and tired women,
those suffering from bronchitis,
chronic coughs and colds should try a bottle of Vinol. We will return your money if it does not help you.

Comparative Digestibility of Food

Made with different Baking Powders

From a Series of Elaborate Chemical Tests:

An equal quantity of bread (biscuit) was made with each of three different kinds of baking powder—cream of tartar, phosphate, and alum—and submitted separately to the action of the digestive fluid, each for the same length of time.

The relative percentage of the food digested is shown as follows:

Bread made with
Royal Cream of Tartar Powder:

100 Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with
phosphate powder:

68 1/4 Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with
alum powder:

67 3/4 Per Cent. Digested

These tests, which are absolutely reliable and unprejudiced, make plain a fact of great importance to everyone: Food raised with Royal, a cream of tartar Baking Powder, is shown to be entirely digestible, while the alum and phosphate powders are found to largely retard the digestion of the food made from them.

Undigested food is not only wasted food, but it is the source of very many bodily ailments.

WHISTLER AT WORK.

The Eccentric Artist Had a Method That Was All His Own.

In "Memories of James McNeill Whistler," by Thomas R. Way, the author allows us a glance at the artist's methods during his residence at the white house in Tite street, built from the designs of his friend, E. W. Godwin, the architect.

"The studio was surprisingly different from the room he previously used in Lindsay row, and entirely unlike the studios usually occupied by other artists. I remember a long, not very lofty room, very light, with windows along one side; his canvas beside his model at one end and at the other, near the table which he used as a palette, an old Georgian looking glass, so arranged that he could readily see his canvas and model reflected in it. Those who used such a mirror (as he did constantly) will know that it is the most merciless of critics.

"I marveled then at his extraordinary activity, as he darted backward and forward to look at both painting and model from his point of view, at the extreme end of the long studio. He always used brushes of large size, with very long handles, three feet in length, and held them from the end with his arm stretched to its full extent. Each touch was laid on with great firmness, and his physical strength enabled him to do without the assistance of a maulstick, while the distance at which he stood from the canvas allowed him to have the whole of a large picture in sight and so judge the correct drawing of each touch."

"The women must have the following: Three white things--skin, hands and teeth. Three black things--eyes, eyelashes and eyebrows. Three pink things--lips, gums and nails. Three long things--life, hands and hair. Three short things--teeth, ears and tongue. Three wide things--forehead, shoulders and intelligence. Three narrow things--waist, mouth and ankle. Three delicate things--fingers, lips and mind. Three round things--arm, leg and dowry."

Things haven't changed so much in five centuries, have they? Or, let us say, that woman's beauty is immortal and immutable.--Albany Times-Union.

ORIGIN OF CINDERELLA.

The Dainty Footed Damsel Who Became a King's Wife.

It has been said, "Not one girl in a thousand knows the origin of the friend of her childhood, Cinderella."

Her real name was Rhodope, and she was a beautiful Egyptian maiden who lived 670 years before the common era and during the reign of one of the twelve kings of Egypt. One day Rhodope ventured to bathe in a clear stream near her home, leaving her shoes, which were very small, lying on a bank. An eagle, passing above, caught sight of the little sandals and, mistaking them for a toothsome tidbit, pounced down and carried off one in his beak.

The bird unwittingly played the part of fairy godmother, for, flying over Memphis, where the king was dispensing justice, it let the shoe fall directly at the king's feet. Its size, beauty and daintiness immediately attracted the royal eye, and the king determined to know the wearer of so cunning a shoe.

Messengers were sent through all the kingdom in search of the foot that it would fit. Rhodope was finally discovered, the shoe placed on her foot, and she was carried in triumph to Memphis, where she became the queen of King Psammeticus.

SEVEN IN TROUPE TO APPEAR THIS WEEK AT PALACE

This week the vaudeville program at the Palace Theatre which opens tomorrow is composed of the "Coleman Mischief Makers," a company of seven people. This act is the only one on the bill, but as it runs an hour it consumes the time and variety of three separate acts. These seven comedians present their original comedy of "Good Old School Days." There is no plot to the skit, but of good singing and comedy there is an abundance. The troubles of the old German professor and his three pretty girls and three mischievous boys is one scream of mirth. One of the boys is a Hebrew character and every member of the company has a specialty in the singing and comedy line to offer to the audience. The bill will be continued Friday and Saturday evenings, with a matinee on Saturday. In addition tomorrow there is a two reel western drama, "The Redemption," or the Gambler's Sacrifice.

"SNOW WHITE" FEATURE FILM FOR THE COYLE

A most charming fairy story, "Snow White" in three reels will be presented at the Coyle Theatre, Friday. This is one of the old fairy tales, with which all of us are familiar. It tells of a girl who was so beautiful that the evil queen, her stepmother, was jealous of her and tried to kill her. In the end, however, she was saved by a prince. In addition will be presented a new and photograph of "Mona Lisa," which is supposed to solve the mystery of the origin of Leonardo da Vinci's great painting, whose mysterious disappearance from the Louvre in Paris long ago startled the whole world.

ORDINANCES FINALLY PASSED BY COUNCIL

Bids to be Asked Soon on Fallowfield Avenue Paving

MAY IMPROVE SEWERS

Receives Permission From State Health Department to Make Extensions

The ordinance for the grading and paving of Fallowfield avenue from Ninth street to its intersection with Lincoln avenue passed second and third reading Tuesday night at the regular meeting of council. Action was taken to secure bids for the work of paving by April 1, when another meeting will be held.

Another ordinance was passed by council, that presented by the West Side Electric Street Railway company, for rights of way over a short stretch of Fallowfield avenue south and through a corner of the borough close to Lincoln avenue extension. This ordinance like the paving ordinance passed both second and final reading.

Communication was received from the State Department of Health that the borough could now go ahead and make whatever sewer extensions regarded necessary. Some time ago the borough submitted plans for a sewer disposal plant. This was considered by the State department as essential before permission would be given for extensions to be made.

A contract for furnishing 500 feet of fire hose was awarded to the Quaker City Hose Co., of Philadelphia, at the price of 82 1-2 cents a foot. This hose will be used as an experiment. Heretofore the fire hose purchased by the borough has been dearer, costing at the average rate of $1 a foot. Last fall a contract was let for 500 feet to a different hose concern at the rate of $1 1/2 a foot.

Council ordered a number of bills paid and received the reports of the burgess, treasurer and tax collector.

Burgess George W. Risbeck's report showed that there were only 34 arrests made during February, with the total fines assessed amounting to $84.45. Of this sum $76.45 was paid the balance being served out in time.

Treasurer T. R. Eagre made a report that is summarized as follows: Balance from last report $2,315.82 Receipts 1,629.78 Total $3,945.60 Disbursements 2,761.32

Balance in treasurer $1,184.28 Tax Collector J. W. Mathias reported that he had turned over to the treasurer for 1912 taxes $172.50, for 1909 taxes $25.73, for 1910, $220 and for 1911, $269.82. Tax Collector Mathias was excused from taxes amounting to $140.75, the balance of the uncollected duplicate. Most of these were where there were double assessments.

Portions of the coal are situated in East Finley and Morris townships, Washington county, and a small part is situated in Rich hill township, Greene county. The larger part is in Morris township, Greene county. Since the first purchase was made several other persons have purchased interests in the coal. IGNORES DEMANDS OF HOUSE

BILLS ARE PRESENTED

Harrisburg, Mar. 12—Governor Tener has split with the legislative committee that is trying to discredit the administration by investigating the officials who hold two or more jobs at the expense of the state. He has refused to furnish information from the various executive departments, and has instructed officials and employees to ignore a summons to appear before the committee and testify. It is stated that the governor will present a message to the legislature today defining his position on the matter. It is also stated that the legislative committee will employ counsel and seek to compel the executive to furnish the information.

The action is largely a Democratic move which seeks to discredit the administration. The practice of holding dual positions has been followed for years and there are no new departures in this administration.

Samuel M. McKean, aged 50 years, one of the oldest residents of this section died at his home at Fern Cliff, Belle Vernon on Tuesday evening at 5:00 o'clock, after an extended illness resulting from old age. He came to this section with his brother, Robert McKean from Scotland in early life, and settled near the present location of Allentown, where he became a gardener.

Robert McKean, the brother, settled on the present site of Charleroi, and it was he who owned the land on which Charleroi was built. His son James S. McKean was the founder of the town. After living on the west side of the Monongahela river some years, Samuel McKean removed to Belle Vernon to become a florist and gardener at Gibbstown. He spent the rest of his life near there. Mr. McKean was a member of the Belle Vernon Lodge of Odd Fellows and his wife died about four years ago at Belle Vernon. Surviving are ten sons and daughters. They are: Mrs. C. B. MONESSEN CONTRIBUTES A MANSLAUGHTER CASE

Want Fifth Street Paved

Petition to be Circulated Asking for Improvement Above Meadow

As the result of activity of certain residents of Fifth street above Meadow avenue and of certain users of the street, a petition will be circulated soon for the grading and paving of the street. Already council has been broached on the subject. Instructions from that body were to be prepared and submit a petition.

Fifth street above Meadow avenue is a hard street for vehicles to pass over. Sometimes in bad weather it seems more of a street to be navigated or forced than driven through. Such is the claim of people most anxious to have it improved.

It is probable that a petition will be circulated at once for the street in order that it may be presented at the next session of council to be held on April 1. Council will be important to do quite a bit of paving this year.

LIBRARY FUND IN PROSPECT

Council Favors Appropriating Dog Tax for Purpose

COMMITTEE APPOINTED

The movement towards the establishment of a free library in Charleroi received an impetus Tuesday night when council accepted the report of a committee favoring the using of dog tax collected in the borough for the up-keep of a library. A committee consisting of Councilman Oscar C. Linn and John K. Rickey was appointed to work conjunctively with others in the interests of a library. Two members of the school board, W. D. Pollock and H. J. Beach are a committee from that body and three others are to be chosen to compose a committee. It is considered advisable the books contained in the Fifth street school library will be transferred to the new library, which is an outgrowth of that established in the Young People's reading room in the Odd Fellows building at the corner of Washington avenue and Fifth street.

E. S. Metz, of Monessen Dies From Assault of Foreigner

HIT WITH IRON BAR

Was at Work as Mill Foreman When Blow Was Struck From Rear

The second death within a week that will result in a trial for murder from Monessen occurred this morning about 2 o'clock, when former councilman Edward S. Metz, aged about 45 of Monessen died at the Monessen-Charleroi hospital. On February 13 Metz was attacked by a foreigner while he was at work at his duties of foreman in the Pittsburg Steel mill. The foreigner is said to have struck him with an iron bar, fracturing his skull. Charged with the crime an Italian by the name of Amela LaBerrie, was arrested a few days afterward at Gannertown, Blair county, by State Constable Fred Ames. LaBerrie is now in jail at Greensburg.

According to the story of the assault Metz was engaged in showing a foreigner how to do a certain duty, when his assailant crept up behind him, striking him a heavy iron bar. An operation was performed shortly after Metz was taken to the hospital, and another was performed Tuesday. LaBerrie will formally be charged with manslaughter by the Westmoreland authorities. He is said to have asked concerning the condition of Metz when arrested and since to have betrayed some anxiety.

Metz was one of the best known men in Monessen. His widow and a married daughter survive.

This morning a coroner's jury was drawn by Deputy Coroner Lawrence B. Frye of Charleroi and the body of Metz was viewed at the hospital. The case is a Washington county coroner's case for the reason that the death occurred in this county, and an inquest will probably be held tonight at 7 o'clock. Metz's skull shows a fracture much the shape of a "V" to the right and back of his head. The jury summoned in the case consists of D. R. Duvall, James Hill, Davis Woodward, Harry Williams, Floyd Chalfant and Harry Scott.

COMPELLING HONESTY.

What with the passage of a federal law compelling manufacturers to mark all packages containing food with the quantity of the contents the weight, measure or numerical count, and the introduction of a "pure shoe" bill in the state legislature, the people are gradually gaining in what is rightfully their own. These laws are to compel common honesty in trade, and to prevent deception.

In the matter of food a package intended to pass for a pound is a couple of ounces short. The price, however, is based on pound rates and the product can usually be bought by the pound in bulk at less than the package containing less than a pound. The so-called quart can or bottle is short in measure and this art of deception is practiced all along the line. The new federal law recognizes the right of manufacturers to sell by the package or container, but they must state the net weight or measure of the package or container, so that purchasers may know that they are paying for less than a pound, quart or fractional part thereof.

It is the same in the manufacture of shoes and should be with clothing. People should know whether they are buying all wool garments or those that are half cotton or shoddy and if shoes stuffed with pasteboard or other materials not leather are made and sold the purchaser should know it. All departures from regular standards are deceptions and if common honesty in trade is conspicuous by its absence, the law should supply the deficiency.

NOT MILITANTS.

So many inquiries are constantly received by suffragists in Pennsylvania as to their views of the actions of the "militant suffragettes" of England that the Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage Association has expressed itself in this direction through a resolution adopted at the monthly meeting of the state committee at the state headquarters recently. This resolution may be accepted as the authoritative utterance of the Pennsylvania suffragists, for all of them are either allied with the Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage Association or else are in thorough sympathy

with it. It is as follows:

"Whereas, we do not pass judgment on the methods of other organizations; we disclaim all connections with militant organizations and do not endorse or intend to use militant methods, but shall continue to employ educational methods as in the past."

The meaning of this is that Pennsylvania need have no fear of brickbats, acid or dynamite. The Pennsylvania suffragists propose to keep up their active campaign with the same regard for the rights of every one as is characteristic of sane political movements in America.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

When a man tells a reporter that he is going away but doesn't want his name in the paper, how in the name of Socrates are you going to tell whether he means he wants it or he doesn't want it? Men are such queer creatures anyhow.

W. Jennings Bryan will no doubt get a chance to try his diplomacy on diplomats of other nations when they try to pile on Uncle Sam all the care of Mexico, Venezuela and those other country children.

The dove of peace has been getting roughly used in Mexico.

When a man waters the milk he gets fined. When he waters the stock he gets a million dollars.

Porfirio Diaz is reported to be on his way to Mexico. Probably he is anxious to try his hand again at exploitation of the Mexicans.

Train a bookkeeper in the way he should go and you can't pry him loose from his system with a crowbar.

When you read of Commissioner Rhinelander Waldo, you somehow have a sensation that his names are on backwards.

A county man who died sometime ago left an inheritance of $33,000. Wouldn't 1-33,000 of that seem nice to have?

When unimpressible people read of these juvenile wonder performing psychic mysteries they feel as if a good spanking would avail much.

They say women are peculiar, but if they are any more peculiar than some men, they are entitled to prizes.

IGNORES DEMANDS OF HOUSE

(Continued from page one.) and order committee has agreed to have what is known as Governor Tener's bill amended so that the license fee shall be not less than $100 nor more than $500 a year, depending upon the size of the membership. It is expected that the bill will be reported favorably to the house today from the full committee.

It is possible that barbers will be required to take out a state license if a bill requiring this finally passes both houses. There is little opposition to such a bill, which is now before the house.

A "pure shoe" law, which requires all materials other than leather used in the manufacture of shoes to be stamped on the article is arousing much opposition. The bill does not prohibit the use of other material, but it requires that the use of such material should be stated, so that shoes made of pasteboard cannot be sold as pure leather shoes.

The resolution to amend the constitution to permit the state to issue bonds to the extent of $50,000,000 for state highway improvement passed the Senate by a vote of 41 to 2. This resolution now goes to the house, and if passed by that body, will be submitted to the people of the state for their approval at the polls. The small opposition in the senate is taken as an indication that the house will approve it.

The bill calling for an election upon the question of holding a constitutional convention in the immediate future has passed the house after much turmoil and debate. The bill was not a party measure, but was backed largely by the supporters of Mayor Magee of Pittsburg, and passed by a vote of 122 to 72. It provides for the election of delegates at the same time

"I was buying some ladies' gingham dresses in New York recently," said a Charleroi merchant and was shown some splendidly made garments at the wholesale house, but the price struck me as being rather high, and I so remarked. The salesman, however, dwelt upon the merits of the garment, calling attention to the material, the extra work and trimmings, and showing that nothing had been neglected in the making of the garment.

"These garments are exceptionally well made," said the salesman. "We required a certain standard, and each garment is carefully inspected, and thrown out if the slightest imperfection is discovered. Why, each one of these dresses cost us 65 cents to make."

"Sixty-five cents?" I echoed, in surprise.

"Yes," replied the salesman, "they cost us more to manufacture than any thing of the grade we ever put on the market before as we had more work put on them than we usually do in garments of that quality."

"Why, man alive!" I said, "that is dirt cheap. Sixty-five cents for making a woman's dress like that! Why, only just before I started to the city my wife had a couple of gingham dresses made by a seamstress at home and there was not nearly so much work on them as on these, and the dressmaker charged her $2.50 each for making them. You must pay starvation wages for the making of these dresses."

"Well, I'll convince you that we don't do anything of the kind," he said, and with that he took me up into the factory, where whole roomful of girls and women were making dresses and other garments. I was shown at those prices that girls made as high as $16 and $18 a week. However, they weren't working as a local dressmaker does, but were rushing at a speed that a woman here would think impossible. They also do team work, that is certain ones do a certain portion of the work and pass it along to others. In that way they become skilled and proficient. Each one does her work quicker and better than the ordinary local seamstress and a garment, perfectly made, is finished up while you stand there looking on. It was a revelation to me."

"Talk about native shrewdness," remarked a Charleroi citizen a day or two ago. "I saw a recent transaction practiced by a small boy that placed him high in the ranks of financiering. My own eight-year-old son and a neighboring lad the same age were at the railroad station the other day, where I was waiting for a train. My son asked for a penny to weigh himself, remarking that he thought he weighed more than his companion. I replied that both of them together would not weigh as much as one husky lad ought to, and after some 'kidding' I gave each of the boys a penny to weigh themselves on the slot machine in the waiting room, and then I handed my son another penny to weigh both together."

The lads rushed to the machine and the other lad told my boy to weigh himself first. This he did and the result was carefully noted.

"Now we'll both get weighed together," said the lad, and both stepped on the scale and my son deposited the penny in the slot I had given him to pay for the joint weight. Then taking a stub of a pencil from his pocket the other boy deducted the weight of my son from their combined weight, and said:

"That is what I weigh. There's no use spending my penny, so I'll just keep it."

The question of holding a convention is voted on at the election next fall. The bill to provide a system of liquor licenses for dining cars was negatively recommended to the house by the law and order committee, together with the bills prohibiting sales of liquor in less than a gallon, forbidding a minor to misrepresent age to get a drink and providing for reimbursement of men who lose liquor licenses by court action without any complaint being made against the conduct of place. The bill making it a misdemeanor to visit a gambling house was affirmatively recommended.

For People in Poor Health. Winter with its sudden changes is particularly trying for old people or those who suffer from a weakened, rundown condition, chronic coughs, colds or bronchitis, but if such persons would only apply common-sense methods in the treatment of their condition, much discomfort and suffering might be avoided. The most essential thing to do is to build up strength, enrich the blood, increase vital resistance and to accomplish nothing equals Vinol, our cod liver and iron tonic without oil.

Mrs. H. Hartmann of Albany, N. Y., says: "I was in a run-down condition for about five years until this spring, when I learned what a great tonic and strengthener Vinol is. It is certainly the best I have ever used and it has done wonders for me."

Old people, delicate children, rundown, overworked and tired women, those suffering from bronchitis, chronic coughs and colds should try a bottle of Vinol. We will return your money if it does not help you. Piper Bros., Druggists.

Comparative Digestibility of Food

Made with different Baking Powders

From a Series of Elaborate Chemical Tests:

An equal quantity of bread (biscuit) was made with each of three different kinds of baking powder—cream of tartar, phosphate, and alum—and submitted separately to the action of the digestive fluid, each for the same length of time.

The relative percentage of the food digested is shown as follows:

Bread made with
Royal Cream of Tartar Powder:

100 Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with
phosphate powder:

68 1/4 Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with
alum powder:

67 3/4 Per Cent. Digested

These tests, which are absolutely reliable and unprejudiced, make plain a fact of great importance to everyone: Food raised with Royal, a cream of tartar Baking Powder, is shown to be entirely digestible, while the alum and phosphate powders are found to largely retard the digestion of the food made from them.

Undigested food is not only wasted food, but it is the source of very many bodily ailments.

CATTLE MAN PAYS

FINE FOR SELLING
DISEASED STOCK

H. W. Deistine, a cattle dealer, of Telford, Montgomery county, has been convicted and fined $175 by the United States court at Baltimore for violating the Federal and Pennsylvania interstate cattle laws. Deistine shipped a cow that reacted to the tuberculin test from Hagersstown, Maryland, into Pennsylvania. The cow when killed showed extensive lesions of tuberculosis. This case is the outcome of the arrangement for co-operation between the United States and the Pennsylvania State Livestock Sanitary Board officials to break up the traffic in diseased cattle.

WHISTLER AT WORK

The Eccentric Artist Had a Method That Was All His Own.

In "Memories of James McNeill Whistler," by Thomas K. Way, the author allows us a glance at the artist's meticulous during his residence at the white house in Tite street, built from the designs of his friend, E. W. Godwin, the architect.

"The studio was surprisingly different from the room he previously used in Lindsay row, and entirely unlike the studios usually occupied by other artists. I remember a long, not very lofty room, very light, with windows along one side; his canvas beside his model at one end and at the other, near the table which he used as a palette, an old Georgian looking glass, so arranged that he could readily see his canvas and model reflected in it. Those who used such a mirror (as he did constantly) will know that it is the most merciless of critics."

"I marveled then at his extraordinary activity, as he darted backward and forward to look at both painting and model from his point of view at the extreme end of the long studio. He always used brushes of large size, with very long handles, three feet in length, and held them from the end with his arm stretched to its full extent. Each touch was laid on with great firmness, and his physical strength enabled him to do without the assistance of a maulstick, while the distance at which he stood from the canvas allowed him to have the whole of a large picture in sight and so judge the correct drawing of each touch."

"the women must have the following: Three white things--skin, hands and teeth. Three black things--eyes, eyelashes and eyebrows. Three pink things--lips, gums and nails. Three long things--life, hands and hair. Three short things--teeth, ears and tongue. Three wide things--forehead, shoulders and intelligence. Three narrow things--waist, mouth and ankle. Three delicate things--fingers, lips and mind. Three round things--arm, leg and dowry."

Things haven't changed so much in five centuries, have they? Or, let us say, that woman's beauty is immortal and immutable. Albany Times-Union.

ORIGIN OF CINDERELLA.

The Dainty Footed Damsel Who Became a King's Wife.

It has been said, "Not one girl in a thousand knows the origin of the friend of her childhood, Cinderella."

Her real name was Rhodope, and she was a beautiful Egyptian maiden who lived 670 years before the common era and during the reign of one of the twelve kings of Egypt. One day Rhodope ventured to bathe in a clear stream near her home, leaving her shoes, which were very small, lying on a bank. An eagle, passing above, caught sight of the little sandals and, mistaking them for a toothsome tidbit, pounced down and carried off one in his beak.

The bird unwittingly played the part of fairy godmother, for, flying over Memphis, where the king was dispensing justice, it let the shoe fall directly at the king's feet. Its size, beauty and daintiness immediately attracted the royal eye, and the king determined to know the wearer of so charming a shoe.

Messengers were sent through all the kingdom in search of the foot that it would fit. Rhodope was finally discovered, the shoe placed on her foot, and she was carried in triumph to Memphis, where she became the queen of King Psammetichus.
